

BASIC SOURCES OF SHARIAH

THE HADITH OF
THE HOLY PROPHET

صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلَيْهِ وَعَلَى آلِهِ وَسَلَّمَ

OBJECTIVES OF THE TOPIC

- ❖ Making students aware of the importance and necessity of Hadith.
- ❖ Introducing them to some terminology of Hadith.
- ❖ Explaining the stages of compilation of authentic Hadiths and cultivating interest in the study of Hadith.
- ❖ Establishing criteria for the acceptance of Hadith to benefit from authentic narrations and providing knowledge of the reliable Hadith collections.
- ❖ Identifying objections raised against Hadith and guiding on how to respond to these objections.

What is Hadith?

1. The Speech of Prophet ﷺ.
2. The Prophet ﷺ actions.
3. Silent approvals of the Prophet ﷺ.
4. Characteristics of Prophet ﷺ.

Conclusion: Hadith means all that is narrated and connected to Prophet Muhammad ﷺ.

Importance of Hadith

- In Quran, believers are ordered to obey Allah سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى and obey Prophet Muhammad صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَعَلَى آلِهِ وَسَلَّمَ in many verses.
- The Hadith is the second primary source of Shariah in Islam.
- The fact that the Prophet صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَعَلَى آلِهِ وَسَلَّمَ is the Messenger of Allah indicates that we must believe everything he said and obey every command he gave.

Understanding the Basic Terminology of Hadith Science

- ❖ سَدَّ CHAIN OF NARRATORS: it refers to the chain of narrators that connects the Hadith to the source (i.e., the Prophet صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَعَلَى آلِهِ وَسَلَّمَ).
- ❖ مَتْن TEXT OF THE HADITH: it refers to the content or message of the Hadith that comes after the سَدَّ (Chain of Narration) has been mentioned.
- ❖ حَدِيث QUDSI: it's a Hadith that the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) narrates from Allah سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى, the Exalted and Majestic.

Compilation of Hadith

- During the Prophet's ﷺ time, Quran and Hadith were mostly memorized by the companions. Some companions, like Abdullah bin Amr bin al-As, with the Prophet's ﷺ permission, wrote down Hadith, such as in his collection "Al-Sahifah Al-Sadiqah," which is considered an early written record of Hadith.
- After the conquest of Makkah, a man from Yemen, Abu Shah, requested the Prophet ﷺ to write down his sermon. The Prophet ﷺ responded, "Write it for Abu Shah" (Sahih Muslim 1355).
- During the era of the Tabi'een (2nd century Hijri), the formal compilation of Hadith began under the directive of Caliph Umar bin Abdul Aziz (d. 101 AH). He ordered the collection of Hadith to prevent their loss. In response to this, Imam al-Zuhri (d. 124 AH) was the first to work on the compilation of Hadith.

The Written Records of the Companions رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ

- The Document of Abu Bakr Al-Siddiq (رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ): It contains the rulings of charity. [Sahih Al-Bukhari (1454)].
 - The Document of Ali Ibn Abi Talib (رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ): [Reported in Al-Bukhari (7300) and Muslim (1370)].
 - The Document of Abdullah Ibn Amr Ibn Al-As (رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ), also known as Al-Sahifah Al-Sadiqah: [Reported in Al-Darimi (513) and Taqyid Al-Ilm by Al-Khatib Al-Baghdadi, p. 84].
 - The Document of Abdullah Ibn Abi Awfa (رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ): [Reported in Sahih Al-Bukhari (2833)].
 - The Document of Anas Ibn Malik (رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ): [Reported in Al-Madkhal Ila Ilm Al-Sunan by Al-Bayhaqi (757)].
- In total, there are mentions of written records from around 11 Companions in authentic narrations.

The oldest printed books of Hadith

1. Tafsir of the Quran by Abdul Malik bin Abdul Aziz bin Juraij (d. 150 AH).
2. Jame'a Ma'mar bin Rashid Al-Basri (d. 153 AH). Contains 1645 Hadiths.
3. Muwatta of Imam Malik bin Anas (d. 179 AH). Contains 1942 Hadiths.
4. Books of Zuhd, Jihad, and Birr wa Silah by Imam Abdullah bin Mubarak Al-Marwazi (d. 181 AH).
5. Al-Athar by Abu Yusuf Al-Qadi (d. 182 AH).
6. Al-Athar by Muhammad bin Al-Hasan Al-Shaybani (d. 189 AH).
7. Musnad of Abu Dawood Al-Tayalisi (d. 204 AH).
8. Musannaf of Abdul Razzaq bin Hammam Al-San'ani (d. 211 AH).

How to classify hadith as Authentic?

- Hadith experts developed five universally acceptable criteria to determine the credibility and authenticity of Hadith:
 1. Continuous chain of narration.
 2. Integrity of the narrators.
 3. Accuracy in reporting, narrator should have a strong and sound memory.
 4. It should also be safe from any form of contradictions.
 5. It must be free from any hidden defects.
- If a hadith fulfills all these five criteria, it is declared authentic. A weak hadith is short of fulfilling the conditions of the authentic one.
- Hafiz Ibn Hajar mentions from Abu Ishaq Asfarayini: 'The scholars of the field (the hadith scholars) agree that the Hadiths present in the two Sahihs, namely Sahih al-Bukhari and Sahih Muslim, are certainly established from the Prophet (صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَعَلَى آلِهِ وَسَلَّمَ).'
